Holidays

My Christmas was normal, I went first to my maternal grandmother's house, we had dinner and lived together for a bit and then we went to my paternal grandmother's house where we opened the presents, some of which I did not expect and I was surprised by that night, it was all, the following day we met again at my paternal grandmother's house and we played and had a lot of fun.

I spent the new year at San Antonio with my mother's family, we had dinner and had a lot of fun.
